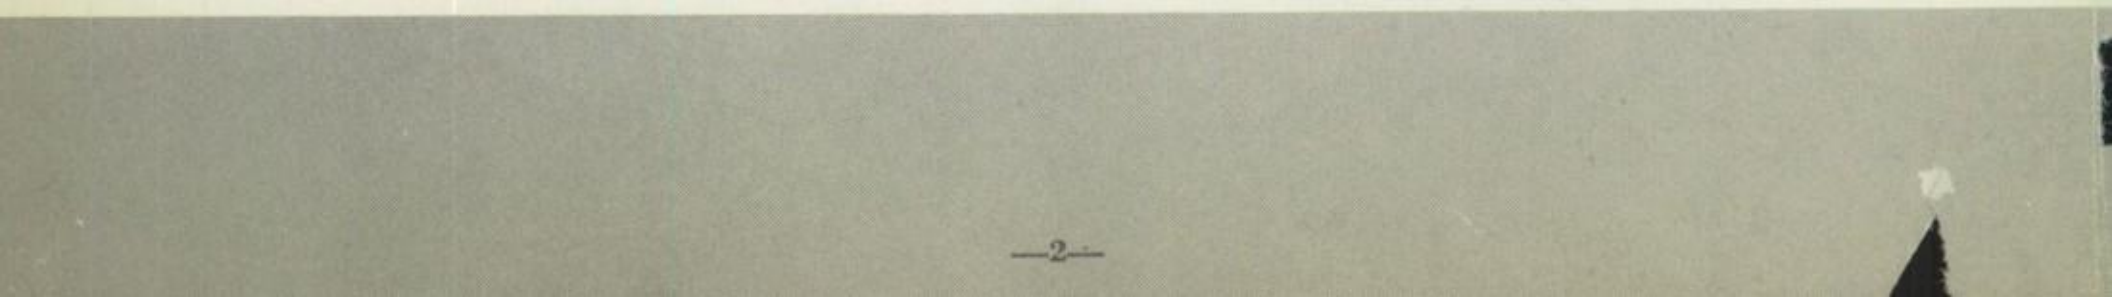
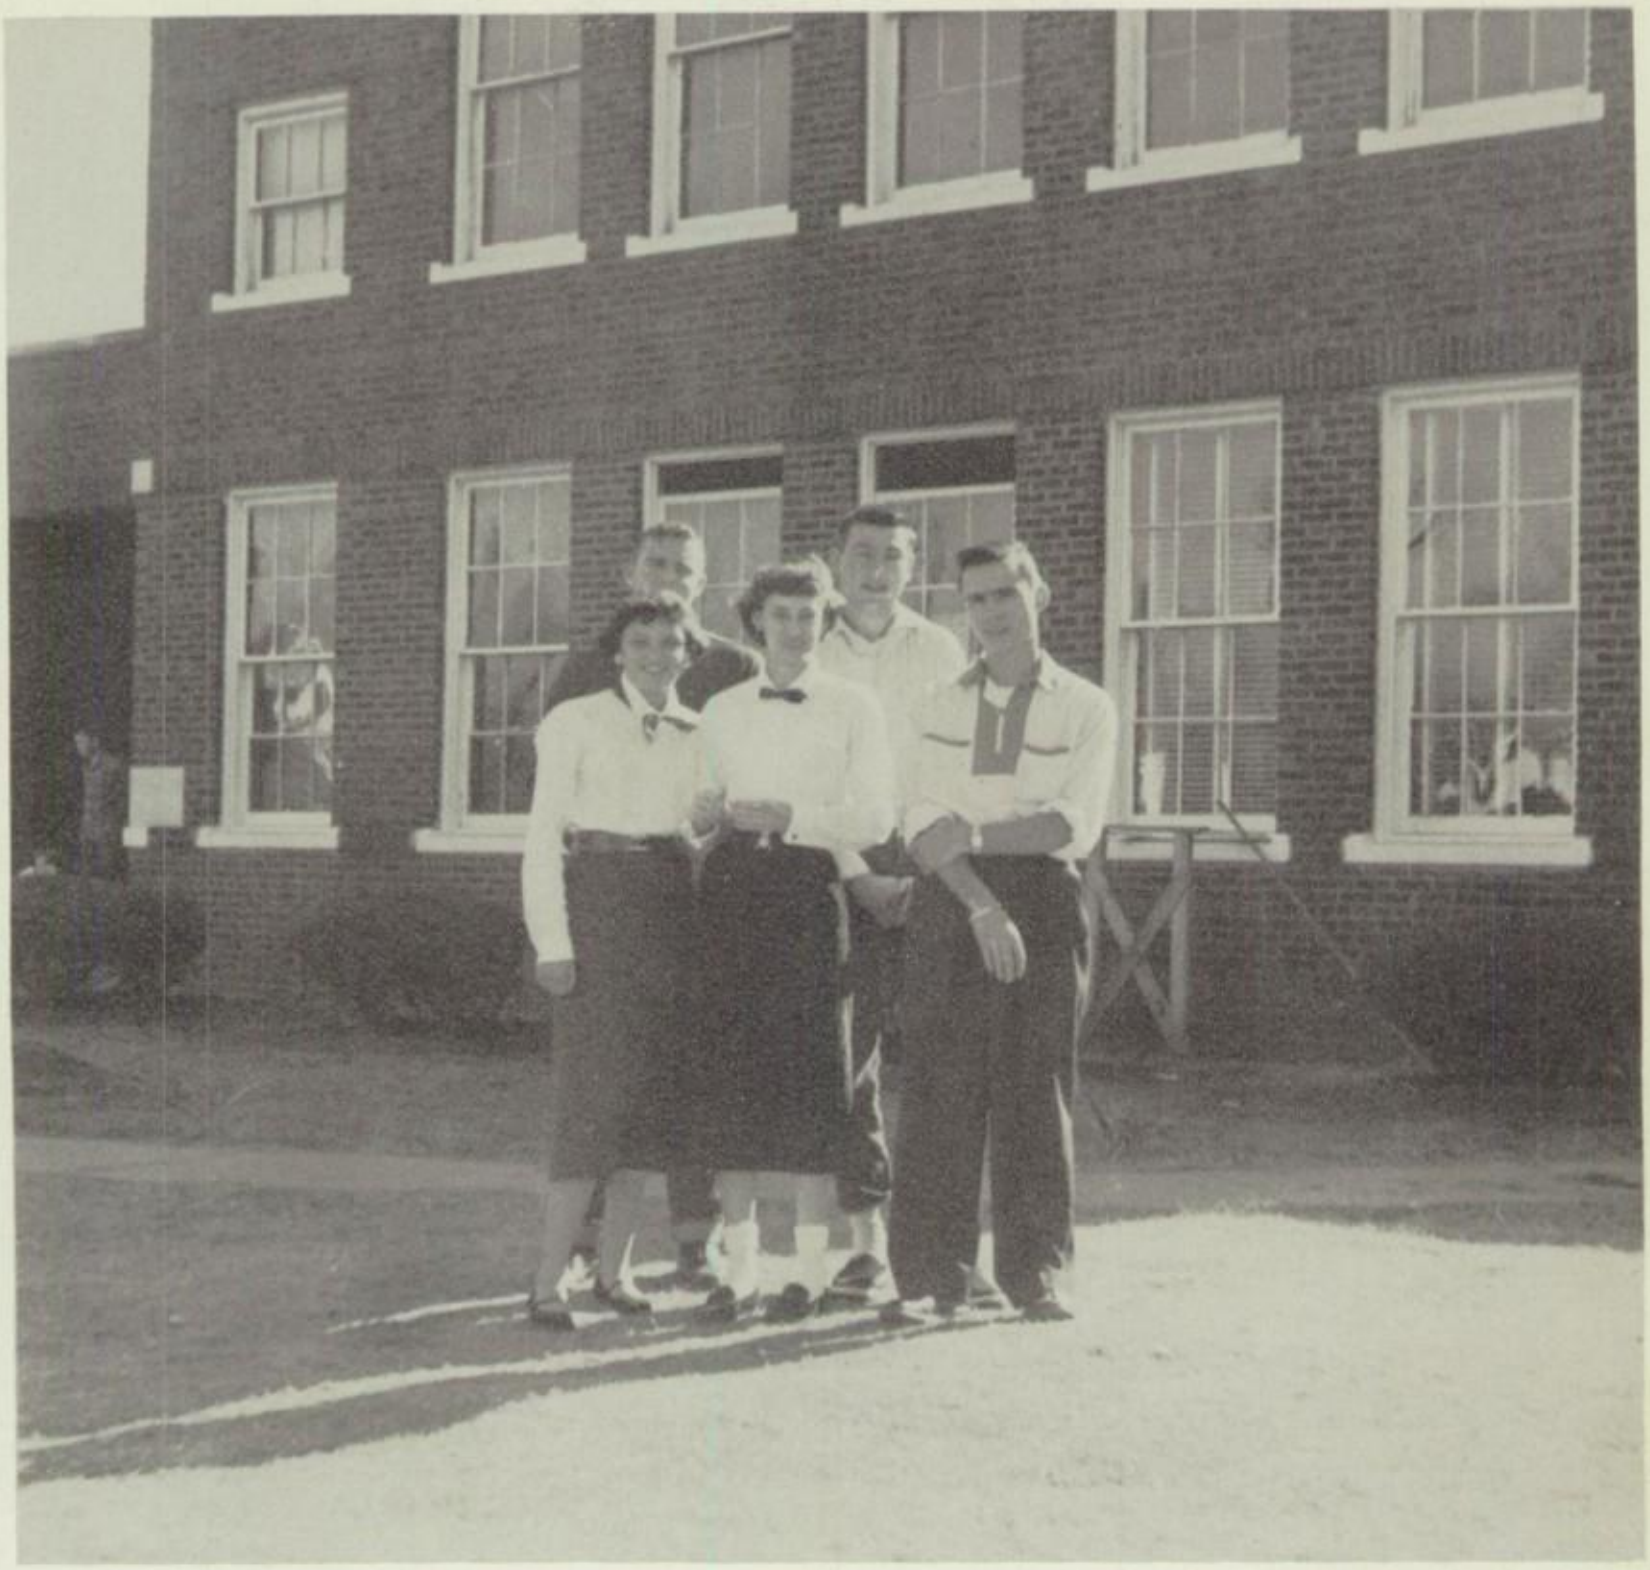
THE OUTLAW

FOREWORD

Our wish to all who turn these pages is that you may recall those friends, those days of work and play, those memories of days at Marlow High School.

If in years to come, through these pages you again recapture that youthful freshness of spirit when horizons were widening and nothing to you seemed impossible of being accomplished, the staff of this yearbook will feel this 1954 "Outlaw" is successful.





DEDICATION

To all those who enter the doors of Marlow High School seeking an education, and who pass through those same doors into broader fields of learning and experience, we dedicate our 1954 Outlaw.

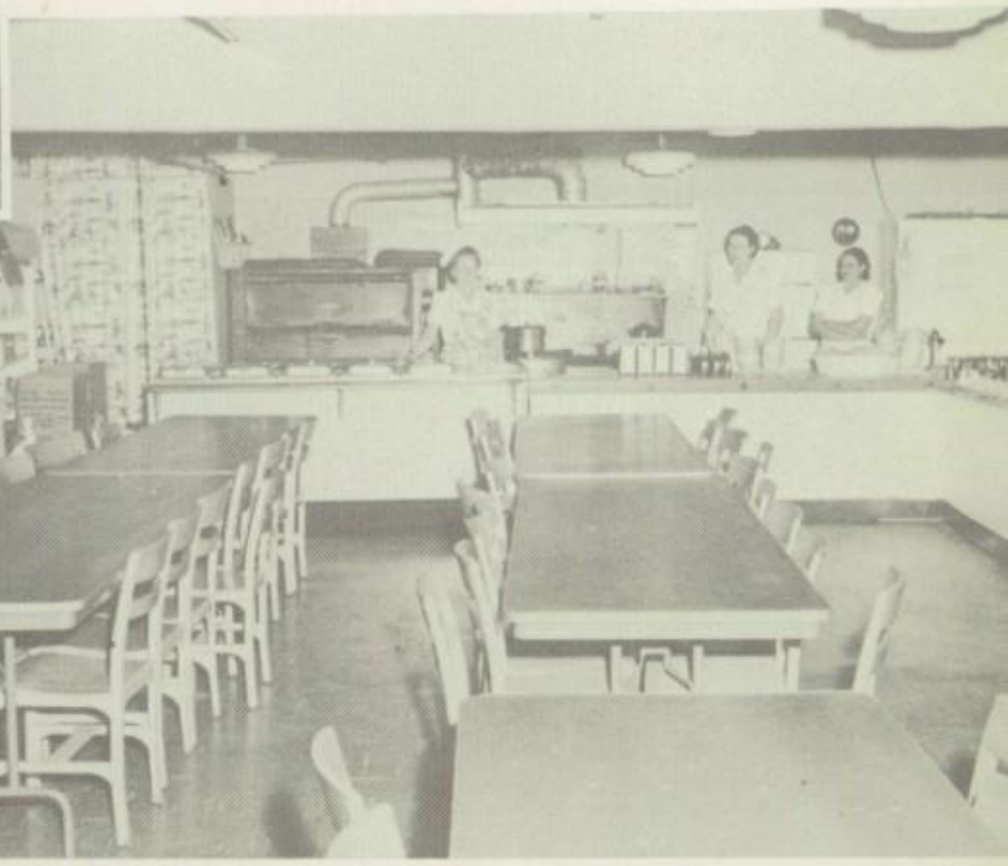
CUSTODIANS AND CAFETERIA PERSONNEL

You can always see Nay and Lee working around the school. Lee's theme song might well be "Ragg Mopp" as he sweeps the high school daily and sometimes more.

Nay Varner and Lee Hicks, Custodians, are shown in the Boiler Room.



The lunch room, located in the new grade building, is efficiently run by Mrs. George Shirley. Her helpers are Mrs. Lillie Turkett and Mrs. Charlotte Kulbeth.

Informal meeting of the teachers at h "get-acquainted" coffee.

The 1953 football season was one of the most unusual in the schools long football history. One week would find the team at great heights, the next week, just the opposite. Through it all they worked hard and advanced to the quarter-finals of the state playoffs where they dropped a heart breaking, never to be forgotten, game to Bethany, 20–21.

Playing their last year for the Blue and White were the following: John Butler, Ray Winn, Don Shotts, Fred Burris, Paul Savage, Bob DeWolf, and Bill Wheat.

JR. SR. ROUND-UP

OUR ALMA MATER

O Alma Mater, our songs we raise to thee.
Far may the echoes ring out o'er land and sea.
Come ye, with voices in chorus strong and clear,
Singing in praise to thee, our Marlow High School, dear.

Sweet memories linger across departed years,
Our hearts are sadden'd, our eyes grow dim with tears,
Still we, united, thy beauties will revere,
Singing in praise to thee, our Marlow High School, dear.

Through all the future, wherever we may go,
Our true devotion, we evermore will show,
We will be loyal, forever, far or near,
Singing in praise to thee, our Marlow High School, dear.

Marlow High School, Marlow High School,
Fight for blue and white.
Sing a song and win a game and stand up for your rights,
Keep fighting.
Marlow High School, Marlow High School,
Winner she will be.
Fight, Outlaws, fight, fight, fight, for victory.
